

Undergraduate Research Assistant Application

Dr. Van Camp – Translational and Applied Behavioral Science Lab

Eligibility and Lab Requirements

- Minimum 3.0 GPA
- Prerequisite: PSY 217, PSY 317, PSY 316, or PSY 417
- Minimum of two-semester commitment
- Attendance at weekly lab meetings

Students may join the lab as DIS students:

PSY 291 - Introductory Research and PSY 491- Directed Individual Study

- Each option satisfies University Studies V: Explorations Beyond the Classroom
- DIS Fall/Spring Semesters: 3 credit hours = 9 hours/week 2 credit hours = 6 hours/week
 - PSY 291 (Freshman or Sophomore standing): 4 credit hours max (total across semesters)
 - PSY 491 (Junior or Senior standing): 9 credit hours max (total across semesters)

Student Information

Name: _____ Student ID: _____

Major: _____ Class Standing: _____

E-Mail Address: _____ Phone No: _____

GPA: _____ Expected Graduation: _____

Availability

Indicate the semesters for which you are applying, the course you wish to take (PSY 419 or DIS) and the number of credit hours you'd take in PSY 291 or PSY 491 each semester (2 or 3).

Semester/Hours _____	Semester/Hours _____
Semester/Hours _____	Semester/Hours _____
Semester/Hours _____	Semester/Hours _____

Indicate your availability for the weekly lab meeting and sessions. At this time, we are not sure when and where our sessions will be held, but possibilities include at our lab in TL, a local YMCA, and a local preschool; thus, if you do not have transportation, please indicate that below. We will confirm your availability before making the final schedule at the start of the semester, but once you have registered for courses, please indicate what times you are available from 8:00 am to 5:00 pm Monday - Friday below.

Monday:

Tuesday:

Wednesday:

Thursday:

Friday:

Notes:

Relevant Coursework in Behavior Analysis

Please list all relevant coursework in behavior analysis (Psychology or Education):

Course #	Course Title	Semester	Instructor	Grade
_____	_____	_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____	_____	_____
_____	_____	_____	_____	_____

Please describe any previous research experience you may have (list the lab and mentor as well):

Please describe any applied experience you may have in behavior analysis or developmental disabilities (practicum, RBT, etc).

How did you hear about our lab? What interests you most about being a part of this lab?

What are your future career plans?

Being part of a lab requires a great deal of commitment. Research assistants must be reliable, punctual, and attentive. Please carefully consider your course load, work load, and any other factors that might influence your ability to attend lab meetings and research sessions consistently. Once you have been accepted into the lab and assigned to a research site and time slots, it is imperative that you attend those sessions. If you feel you are up to this commitment, please submit your completed application to vancampc@uncw.edu We will be getting back to you shortly via email.